

Journalists

Raconteur Media is a London based publishing house that produces independent special interest reports exclusively for News International – The Times and The Sunday Times. We are expanding and therefore are looking to strengthen our editorial team.

We are looking for experienced freelance journalists with a portfolio of work published in the UK's quality daily newspapers and weekly journals to contribute to our special interest reports.

As a freelance journalist at Raconteur we are looking for:

- Will deliver high quality news orientated articles
- Have the ability to work quickly and to get copy out to strict deadlines
- Have an excellent eye for detail and able to take responsibility
- Deliver the content agreed with the Publisher
- Are creative and can add to editorial expertise
- Are positive and have a solutions based attitude
- Have a strong reputation and contacts with blue chip companies
- You will be required to attend and participate in our editorial meetings in London

The editorial assignments can include the responsibility of the entire editorial content in a report. Each report consists of at least 16 pages with 60 per cent editorial. As a journalist you will normally have 3 weeks to deliver the copy. The exact number of articles and amount of words will be given at an initial editorial meeting.

In addition, Raconteur will offer:

- Many freelance projects within different subjects and a good financial compensation
- A fast growing international publishing house
- A young, creative and experienced editorial environment
